

Change Management For Innovative Leadership G&D Associates

We believe that to fundamentally change the learning experience for every individual, there needs to be an evolutionary transformation. A management structure for complex change is what will drive this shift in teaching and learning. This starts with the development of a comprehensive vision. Beyond a simple vision statement, G&D Associates guides clients through a proven process tied to a clear change management model.

Our two-day workshop will develop participants' understanding of change components while illustrating how personalization can be achieved through a strong plan. G&D will guide you through initial vision development and strategic planning structures that when implemented significantly increase the likelihood of success.

The purpose of this course is to develop an understanding of:

- Strategic vision development
- Developing concrete deliverables from a vision or grant application
- Prioritizing deliverables
- Assessing the organization's capacity
- Developing timelines
- Project management

This course is most effective when delivered to one and at the most two schools at a time, as the sessions are tailored to each organization's current status.
